Live in California? You Lucky Bride, You

If you live in Cali (yes, I know...nobody calls it "Cali"...just wanted to see if you were paying attention!), you really must check this latest resource I scouted out, Here Comes the Guide.

I love a great find, and this is one huuuuuuuuuuuge collection of resources for California couples in the areas of jewelry, clothes, venues and more.

And of course, they have what I always look for in a great wedding site: articles giving advice on tying the knot in style.

Being a California girl myself, I couldn't help but be a little swayed toward a southwest resource, but no matter what, you'll find inspiration on this professional, pretty and functional site.

Kudos to the writers and administrators of Here Comes the Guide. Keep up the good work!
